Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps Lord our God other Lords besides thee
Action keeps from has dominion over us but by Action keeps thee only will we make mention
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
William Boyd Copy Dated this 6th day of September 1848

Action keeps both soul and body in health but idleness corrupts
Both the mind and the understanding than a man of good nature
Parts and great abilities may by slothfulness idleness become so mean
And despicable as to be an incumbrance to society and a burden to himself
Be cautious of that mans company who has no regard to his own
Reputation for it is evident if he value not his own he will never mind yours
Children like young twigs may be bent any way therefore all such
As have the care of them should instilled into their minds early notions of piety
And virtue as they naturally will grow as they are fashioned for what
We learn in youth we are by a sort of second nature prone to in old age
Discretion does not show itself in words only but in all the circumstances
Of action in short it is the handmaid of providence to guide and direct
Us in all the common concerns of life Education Grounded on Good principles teaches us not to be over joyed in prosperity nor too
Much dejected in adversity William Boyd of Coelaparma