the hands of Corbeigh on estate partly in the Parish of Hookmore and the boundaries which formerly extended between the two parishes have been crossed and removed and are now difficult to be traced we were shown a large stone and the stump of an old white Elm tree on John Mallowry's farm as being on or near the old boundary between the two Parishes and it was stated to us by John Murphy below Mallowry Daniel Joyce
Edward Joyce Wm Urwick and David Neale that some parts of their farms were situated in the Parish of Castle Lyons and other parts in the Parish of Hookmore some of whom showed great unwillingness to point out the parts of their farms in the Parish of Castle Lyons - being however all shown to their satisfaction after some hesitation and promising satisfaction they gave us the returns of the quantities or acreages of their farms as set out each of them in this Book as being in the Parish of Castle Lyons exclusively
