Tithes, but I do not feel inclined at liberty from the trust reposed in me as Head of the Church & Guardian of the interests of the Church to assent to an arrangement whereby those interests will and can rationally suffer — I am satisfied that £140 is not too large a sum for your tithe-rent — and I do not think you can with propriety accede to less. I am, my dear Sir,

Very truly yours
W. Dublin
