114

An arrangement on the Qualities of the Acres of the Parish of Killeshathan by Major Sullivan and Edward Massy Esqr. Commissioners Appointed under the Fifth Composition Act in the Year 1828

Rates of Qualities per new plantation Measure

First Quality 18 pence per statute
Second D.o 12 pence per statute
Third D.o 6 pence per statute
Fourth D.o 2½ pence per statute

Oct 24 24

1/3 rec'd
½ May Protest currency

DUBLIN, APRIL 17.

Good Friday, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant came to town from the Lodge in the Phœnix Park, escorted by a party of the 15th Hussars. His Excellency afterwards attended Divine Service at the Castle Chapel, and returned to the Park in the afternoon.

We understand that Lord Manners is preparing to break up his establishment in this Country, and that his servants are busily employed in packing up.—Freeman's Journal.

Christopher Ffarmham, Esq. presided at the Catholic Association on Saturday, when Mr. O'Connell addressed the elaite on the new and important situation of political affairs, occasioned by the sudden rupture in the Cabinet. Mr. O'Connell rejoiced in the entry part of the morning in the examination of witnesses; after which Mr. Hoffe, as Counsel for the sitting Member (Colonel White), addressed the Committee at considerable length, contending most strongly that, though bribery, treating, and undue influence had been proved against the Sitting Member, it was not sufficient to unseat him, unless it was proved that he was aware of the bribery, treating, and undue influence practised by his agents. Mr. Hoffe then proceeded to examine witnesses to prove that Colonel White was not aware of the bribery, treating, and undue influence practised by his agents. Mr. Hoffe then proceeded to examine witnesses to prove that Colonel White was not aware of the bribery, treating, and undue influence practised by his agents.

Mr. Hoffe then proceeded to examine witnesses to prove that Colonel White was not aware of the bribery, treating, and undue influence practised by his agents.